

We are so grateful and humbled that you are taking the time to get to know us! We extend our hearts to you and are moved to emotion when even thinking about your selflessness and bravery. While we do not know what it feels like to walk in your shoes as you live out your decision, we want you to know that we have the utmost honor and respect for you and your child. Family is everything to us and, if chosen by you, we can promise you that your child will be protected, cared for with love, and have a one on one relationship with the oldest to the youngest person in our families. Your baby will hear the words "I love you" daily and we will pour our time and energy into making sure he or she knows how true that is.

Why Adoption? I had to have a medically necessary hysterectomy to become cervical cancer free in November 2016. Lacy knew about my infertility from the beginning of our relationship & he was always so supportive. We feel called that adoption is our next steps in parenthood. We love children & are excited about raising & loving a new life!

About Us: We live in Florida and met in 2017, instantly knowing that we would spend our lifetimes inseparable. Our families immediately bonded to one another, celebrating holidays and accomplishments together. Veronika instantly fell in love with Sa'Rhi, Lacy's daughter, and Lacy fell in love with how Veronika loved and cared for Sa'Rhi. In 2018, we got engaged surrounded by family & took a trip to Jamaica to celebrate. We sealed our forever story with marriage in March 2019. We love to spend time with Lacy's daughter,

Sa'Rhi, whenever we get the chance.

We love spending time together no matter what we are doing. We enjoy traveling, spending time around bodies of water, having date nights, trying different foods, binge watching a television show, cooking and cleaning, and spending time with family. We thrive off of shared experiences, from taking trips to the beach or mountains, working out, going to the park, or simply taking a walk together. We also love coffee. Going to a coffee shop or making coffee at home is always something we love to do while enjoying a good conversation. We are members at our church and attend routinely. We have been to 8 states and 3 countries in 3 years

About Lacy, By Veronika: I admire Lacy's caring spirit, and his desire to always be a better man and provider, even though he already excels at it. I love his ability to make me laugh. I admire his love for Sa'Rhi and his ability to be the dad a little girl needs and desires. This is literally what made me fall in love with him. I love him because he loves me for me. He accepts my strengths and areas of growth and does not put me down. When people meet him, they think he is quiet and reserved, but I know the real Lacy - full of adventure and extremely intentional about his interactions with others.

My husband is a natural when it comes to kids. He is the best father to Sa'Rhi. He teaches her values of family, reliability, honesty, and self-confidence. He makes sure she knows her family, oldest to youngest member. He is a Billing Manager at a Bank. He will receive ample paternity leave and his employer prioritizes family.

About Veronika, By Lacy: I love Veronika for many reasons, but her big heart and ability to see the best in others are two of the things I love the most. Veronika's selflessness and willingness to make others happy is amazing. She has the ability to push me and keep me levelheaded in situations where I doubt myself. She is a great cook, always trying something new. Veronika is both relatable and energetic with every child she interacts with. She likes to create small projects with her nieces, little cousins and Sa'Rhi.

She is always vibes that kids automatically are attracted to. She is looking forward to raising a child, providing for them and giving them meaningful experiences with family far and near. My wife works for an educational non-profit as the Experience Director. Her job is family friendly, allowing staff members to bring their children to work or work from home if needed. She will have ample maternity leave & transition back to work benefits.

We are excited to parent a new life and add to our family. We are committed to providing a loving, safe and family oriented environment for your child. Having faith has brought us through good times and tough times and we know that continuing to trust and believe in all circumstances we are faced with will allow for us to provide the best life to your child. We know taking this all in is daunting, but we hope that we were able to connect with you by sharing our story. Thank you for experiencing moments in our life for a mere second at a time. We look forward to learning more about you on this journey!

With Grateful Hearts,

Lacy & Veronika
